A shocking news reported this year that a polar bear died of a very long-distance swimming because he failed to find an ice to take a rest in the North Pole. In recent years, we also heard that many terrible snow storms, flooding, hurricanes have destroyed a lot people's homes and the climate around the globe becomes so unpredictable. We cannot deny that all the global citizens are experiencing a climate crisis in which the human activity has very likely been the driving force to such a crisis. 'Global warming' is the major crisis we encounter now and how to prevent the warming trend becomes everybody's responsibility. As a global citizen, please write an essay, at least 200 words long and not exceed 500 words, about how global warming happens, how it affects our lives and how you can help to rescue our environment.
