Part C: Read the following passage and choose the best answer to each question.

Judy, my best friend from high school, got the admission to a famous national university this year. Not surprisingly, English is her major. Ever since high school, Judy has been breaking her back learning English. When she was in high school, she read a special novel written in simplified English almost every day for 30 minutes. She bought an English-English dictionary and uses it to look up unfamiliar words. It was hard to study regularly at the beginning, and every English sentence was a challenge to her. But now, she can read much faster. Every day, she looks forward to reading her book. The book gives her the chance to use what she has learned and to learn even more. Because she reads regularly, she forgets little and her vocabulary keeps growing. I believe Judy is on the right track, and sooner or later she'll be able to read newspapers or any books written in English.
